

DGP's Message

I take this opportunity to convey my sincerest greetings to all of you.

The state of U.P. has the distinction of being the most populous state in the country and Uttar Pradesh Police too has the distinction of being the single largest civil police force not only in the country but the entire world.

The Director General of Uttar Pradesh Police heads a force of approximately 2.5 lakh personnel spread over 75 districts, 33 Armed Battalions and other specialized wings related to Investigations, Intelligence, Training, Technical Services, Forensics and Railways-to name a few.

Besides being among the frontrunners in adopting modern, scientific and innovative policing techniques, Uttar Pradesh Police has the proud privilege of being the first civil police force in the country to be conferred the honour of receiving the colours on 13th November, 1952 by the then Prime Minister of India Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru. Since its inception it has assiduously maintained its glorious track record of keeping social and communal harmony intact, maintaining Law and Order and keeping an effective check on criminals and crimes so that a sense of security is felt by citizens and a favourable climate for all round development of the state is engendered.

It is matter of great pride and honour for me to be leading and living with a police force of such exemplary glorious traditions and history as Uttar Pradesh Police.

I look forward to strengthening and carrying this glorious legacy to greater heights with your active cooperation and participation.
