Dear Sir,

Warm Greetings from Geospatial Media & Communications!

As a way of formal introduction, I represent Geospatial Media and Communications, one of the world's most renowned Media companies that is dedicated to the promotion of Geospatial Technologies across multiple sectors of an economy. We are a 17 year old media organization headquartered out of Noida in the Delhi NCR region with offices spanning across six locations across the globe, including, Malaysia, UAE, The Netherlands, South Africa and Brazil.

Geospatial Media and Communications is organising GeoIntelligence Asia 2015, the 9th Annual Conference and Exhibition on 11-12 June, 2015 at JW Marriott, Aerocity, New Delhi. The conference will bring together experts, professionals, users and solution providers from the field of GIS in an environment conducive to sharing and learning. Cooperation between nations assumes greater significance for ensuring security in an age where regional threats to a nation have international impact. Experts from various defense establishments and government agencies in the Asian region involved in developing and exploiting geospatial technologies will add value of this conference.

With the theme "Converging GeoInt, Information Technology & Engineering for National Security", this conference will help project and promote the capabilities and applications of geospatial technologies for defence and internal security. Some of the issues which will be discussed will include network centric warfare, battlefield surveillance, target acquisition and weapon guidance, emergency preparedness, disaster response and recovery, maritime, coastal and border security, city surveillance and public safety and crime detection and prevention. Two parallel forums, "Public Safety & Disaster Management" and "Internal Security & Police Modernisation" are being organised concurrently with GeoIntelligence Asia 2015.

It is our utmost pleasure to invite you to participate as a Guest and also request you to depute officers from your department to attend the GeoIntelligence Asia 2015. We sincerely believe officials will surely get benefited by attending this conference. The participation fee for government officials is INR 5,000 (all inclusive) per person. More details are available at: www.geointelligenceasia.org

I am attaching 'GeoIntelligence - Asia 2015' flyer for your kind consideration.

We look forward to your kind acceptance of our invite. Your organisation presence would add significant value to the conference.

With Best Regards,

Shalini Upadhyay(Ms.)
